GOSPEL

Reading of the Holy Gospel according to Saint Mark (6:7-13)

Jesus summoned the Twelve and began to send them out two by two and gave them authority over unclean spirits. He instructed them to take nothing for the journey but a walking stick— no food, no sack, no money in their belts. They were, however, to wear sandals but not a second tunic.

He said to them, “Wherever you enter a house, stay there until you leave. Whatever place does not welcome you or listen to you, leave there and shake the dust off your feet in testimony against them.” So they went off and preached repentance. The Twelve drove out many demons, and they anointed with oil many who were sick and cured them.

REFLECTION

Jesus warned the twelve against carrying anything they did not need. They were to be counter-witnesses to possessiveness, retail therapy, and the consumerism to which advertisements propel us. The more we have, the less we are. The greatest treasure which the twelve carried with them was the good news of Jesus.

The message of the Lord is to travel light in the journey of life. Wealth, desire for recognition and personal pride can stunt our desire for God and our freedom to love and to do good. We are just passing through our world for a short time; Jesus advises us to make the most of it for ourselves and for others.

The power over unclean spirits that the Twelve are given is an extension of Jesus' own power. The austere working conditions that Jesus lays down are meant to signify that the Twelve are to trust in God and not on worldly possessions if their mission is to be successful. In the Gospel, Jesus sent out His disciples to have authority over unclean spirits. It was said that whenever the people don't listen to them, they should leave. And it was God saying that someone who listens is someone who loves. God always listens to us even we are at our lowest. He hears our mourn and give us the love that we deserve, all we need is to entrust all our worries to Him. If an unseen God is listening to us all the time, what shall we do for those people we see who wanted their voice to be heard?

Jesus told the disciples to shake the dust off their feet, they were not to be held back by those who are unreceptive or unwelcoming. We ask God to help us not to let negative 'dust' cling take and slow us down.
