GOSPEL

Reading of the Holy Gospel according to Saint John (20:19-31)

On the evening of that first day of the week, when the doors were locked, where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, "Peace be with you." When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord. Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." And when he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained."

Thomas, called Didymus, one of the Twelve, was not with them when Jesus came. So the other disciples said to him, "We have seen the Lord." But he said to them, "Unless I see the mark of the nails in his hands and put my finger into the nailmarks and put my hand into his side, I will not believe."

Now a week later his disciples were again inside and Thomas was with them. Jesus came, although the doors were locked, and stood in their midst and said, "Peace be with you." Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here and see my hands, and bring your hand and put it into my side, and do not be unbelieving, but believe." Thomas answered and said to him, "My Lord and my God!" Jesus said to him, "Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed."

Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of his disciples that are not written in this book. But these are written that you may come to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that through this belief you may have life in his name.

REFLECTION

At Mass, we hear one of the favorite Gospel stories of all time: the appearance of Jesus to His disciples in the upper room.

There's one character in this story who tends to get more press than the others: Thomas. He becomes known as "doubting Thomas," the one who needed to see in order to believe.

Do we condemn Thomas? Judge his unbelief? After all, didn't he spend several years of his life walking with the Lord, listening to His teachings, and being prepared to carry on His ministry? Shouldn't think come easy to him?

Moments of doubt, fear, and unbelief in the life of faith are unavoidable, even to the strongest believer. Look at Peter, who denied Christ three times and was still chosen as the first leader of the Church!

The story of Thomas gives hope to all of us who have doubted at some point in our lives. For how does the Lord respond to his doubt? He meets it with love. He brings Thomas to understanding. He reaches out and gives Thomas what he needs in order to believe.

The Lord meets our doubt with love as well because he thirsts for our faith. He reaches out, takes our hand, and says, "Put your finger here and see my hands...and do not be unbelieving, but believe."

Let's not be so hard on Thomas, for he represents those moments when we struggle to recognize Christ in our own lives. Those moments when we are met with love and brought back to belief. So really, we can call him Thomas the human, Thomas the awestruck, Thomas the believer. Because in the end, he surrendered to the Lord and returned home to Him. In our own doubt, fear, distrust, or confusion, let us ask the Lord to enter into our lives. To give us His peace. To take away our unbelief. To bring us home.
